Dear Students,

Welcome to English 1! In this course you will be acquainted with Chemistry terminology and Academic writing. Attendance in the course is compulsory and participation is highly recommended. Proficiency holders will only be exempted from the final exams, if they score 8.0 or more in the diagnostic test which will take place in the second week of October this year. Kindly note though that all students (even proficiency holders) will have to submit a written project and give a presentation on their chosen subject at the end of the semester.

Students who struggle with English should notify the instructor as soon as possible so that support sessions are arranged for them.

In this course we will be using an online platform and a web blog so that you can find relevant information regarding the course requirements and deadlines. More information on this will be given in the first week of lessons so please make sure you attend so that you can keep up with all the announcements and developments in the course.

Looking forward to seeing you all in my class!

kind regards,

Kallia Katsampoxaki-Hodgetts

Email: katsampoxaki@uoc.gr  Office Γ301  Tel. 2810545102
Blog: https://chemistryenglish.wordpress.com
Online platform: edmodo.com (You need to use the class code to register)